

Westlaw in Vermont's Public Libraries

The Community Legal Information Center (CLIC) is sponsoring computer access to a limited version of Westlaw in 8 libraries throughout the state.

WHAT? An agreement that permits 8 libraries located throughout the state to offer free computer access to Westlaw for legal research (cases, statutes, and more) to members of the hosting town and citizens of neighboring towns.

WHERE? Fletcher Free Library, Charlotte Library, Enosburgh Public Library, Manchester Community Library, Kellogg Hubbard Library, Rutland Free Library, Springfield Town Library, and Windsor Public Library.

WHY? Making legal information and research more accessible to Vermont's citizens.

HOW? Patrons with legal questions can find legal information with a keyword search or using plain language.

ADVANTAGE: Patrons have access to features provided by West's editorial staff that can make researching easier and faster at locations that are more accessible. Research undertaken closer to home can be a good starting point, even if it does not provide all the answers.

REMEMBER: CLIC is here to provide access to more robust platforms and resources, and experienced legal research help.

For more information contact:

Pamela Cartier - 802-831-1313 or
clic@vermontlaw.edu

This project is made possible by the collaboration between the Vermont Department of Libraries and Vermont Law and Graduate School working together to help bridge the justice gap.